MODULA MOVES JOBS INTO LEWISTON

LEWISTON, Maine — Italian-based high-tech storage and retrieval system maker Modula has opened its new North American headquarters in Lewiston. The company is investing $6 million in the facility, which is creating 50 jobs.

A subsidiary of the System Group, Modula manufactures storage systems, carousels and conveyor belts for hospitals, the military and other manufacturers. Company officials said increased demand is driving the facility and the new investment has added more automated machinery, technology and production shifts.
